What is homecoming?

It's an exciting time for high school students in America. Old students come home and visit their old school or town.

How did homecoming start?

It started in the late 1800s. People often left their hometowns because there weren't any jobs. Once a year, they came home for a party. Now homecoming week usually happens at the town high school in late September or October.

What happens in homecoming week?

There is usually a big football game against a school from a different town. There is also a parade through the town with the high school band. For the school students there are 'dressup' days. Students wear fun clothes. And on the Friday of homecoming week, students wear their school colors. The week ends with the homecoming dance.
